

Careers in Horseracing

If you want to work with horses, there has never been a better time to join the horseracing industry. The industry is an interesting and exciting place to work - you could help breed or race the best horses in the country or even world!

There are many great training opportunities in racing including studying for NVQ Level 1 and 2 in racehorse care. The British Racing School in Newmarket, the Northern Racing College in Doncaster and other approved centres, offer training known as a foundation apprenticeship. The initial residential training lasts between 9 and 12 weeks after which you are guaranteed a job in a racing yard. During this paid employment, you will continue to work towards achieving your full qualification, usually within 2 years.

On the breeding side, you can study for an NVQ Level 2 in racehorse care (breeding option) and the National Stud Diploma Course. You will get involved with everything from handling foals and mares to mucking out, grooming and exercising in hand.

With a career in horseracing, you'll never look back. The training courses are just the beginning of a life that offers travel, excitement and a future full of opportunity.

For further information on careers, training and jobs available in racing, visit our website www.careersinracing.com

FIND OUT ABOUT THE BEST CAREERS STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSES MOUTH.

THERE'S A WHOLE WORLD OF OPPORTUNITIES IN HORSERACING. AND YOU DON'T NEED ANY EXPERIENCE TO GET INVOLVED.

VISIT OUR WEBSITE TO LEARN MORE.

explore

careersinracing.com

- Stable Staff.
- Travelling
- Stable Staff.
- Box Driver.
- Jockey.
- Trainer.
- Stud Hand.
- Stallion
- Handler.
- Stud Groom.
- Stud Manager.
- Bloodstock
- Agent.
- Trainers
- Secretary.
- Racing
- Administrator.
- Racecourse
- Executive.
- Groundsman.
- Stable Staff.
- Travelling
- Stable Staff.
- Box Driver.
- Jockey.
- Trainer.
- Stud Hand.
- Stallion
- Handler.
- Stud Groom.
- Stud Manager.